

Registry participants can now securely upload and store education and training documents online. This enables participants to build an electronic professional portfolio, accessible anytime they need it. Additionally, participants' current employers will be able to access uploaded documents in order to support their employees' professional goals and report to regulatory and funding agencies.

Follow the instructions below to upload your education and training documents to your Registry profile. Please refer to Documents to Submit on the Registry Resources page to learn more about which documents are acceptable for profile upload.

Uploading Documents

Before you upload a document check and see if you need to upload:

1. Do you need this document on your profile?

For Example:

- Outdated CA Child Development permits and Teaching Credentials are not needed.
- Training certificates that do not have an issuer, training title, training hours earned, completion date, training participant name, and verifier or instructor signature, if applicable, can not be verified.
- Diplomas are not needed – but transcripts with degree conferral dates are needed.
- Is the document old and you are not participating in a program that would require it?

For Example:

Permits PD – go back 5 years

CCIP trainings – go back to 2017

QRIS – Usually 1 year (check with your QRIS coordinator)

2. Check that the document is not already on the Education & Training Report. To view your report, log in to the Registry and go to the left hand tool bar “My Tools & Settings” and click on “My Education & Training Report”.

3. Did the training organization collect your Registry ID? For example, California Early Childhood Online (CECO) will import those attendance records within 24 hours so you do not need to upload the certificates.  Make sure your Registry ID is correct and provided to training organization and/or entered in your CECO account.

4. Did you enroll on the Registry? Check with the training organization, as they should be confirming your attendance on the Registry. Please refer to the “Training Organizations on the Registry” list under “My Resources” in the Registry to see a list of approved Training Sponsors.

What documents should you upload?

- PITC trainings (e.g. foundational trainings)
- College transcripts – Transcripts must include all pages and be legible. If you have a degree the transcript must include the date of conferral. The Registry does not accept diplomas.
- CA Child Development Permit and Teaching Credentials (current)
- Training certificates and certifications (current) for training organizations not on the Registry

Tips on Uploading Documents:

- Enter documents one at a time, not multiple trainings on one upload.
- Include a description of the document to assist you and Registry staff in uploading/processing documents
